

Long read

No commitment, no certificate: loose combinations and the SPC regulation

Unless reforms substantially amend Article 3, pharma companies developing combination therapies with active ingredients that are authorised separately will face significant difficulties in obtaining SPC protection

04 February 2026

EXCLUSIVE: 'No one can ignore India': Justice Prathiba M Singh on India's evolving SEP landscape

In discussion with IAM, the leading Delhi High Court judge shares her thoughts on the country's pro-patentee image, anti-suit injunctions and lingering issues in the judiciary

21 January 2026

The CIPO advantage: what great looks like in 2026

The organisations that thrive are those that treat intellectual property not as a narrow legal right but as a means to control business choke points, write experts from Konsert Strategy & IP

07 January 2026

Meet this year's IP Hall of Fame inductees – Rochelle Dreyfuss

Professor Dreyfuss shares her proudest achievements and offers advice to young legal scholars

18 December 2025

Strategies for dealing with trade secrets in transactions

Demonstrating that trade secrets have remained – and will continue to remain – confidential is a critical factor in valuing any IP portfolio

17 December 2025

IAM's news highlights from a record-breaking IPBC Asia

Interim licences, rate-setting and soaring chip prices were among the topics discussed on stage and during networking in Tokyo

04 December 2025

AI has arrived: will IP departments choose augmentation or transformation?

Long Read: The Meta IP team's embrace of AI offers a blueprint for corporate IP departments to adopt an AI-native approach, reimagining workflows and driving transformative change from the ground up

03 December 2025

Inside Xiaomi's IP engine: behind the scenes at Beijing's innovation powerhouse

In a series of exclusive interviews, top IP executives spoke to IAM about placing the consumer at the heart of commercial decisions and the company's unyielding approach to "unreasonable" demands

18 November 2025

Tariffs and transfer pricing: how Trump's trade policies are reshaping IP economics

Tariffs can cause a ripple effect across valuation methods that cannot be captured by a single adjustment. Addressing these factors explicitly is critical to the integrity and defensibility of intercompany IP arrangements

05 November 2025

Risk roulette: who is guarding your trade secret exposure?

From AI hazards to M&A landmines, experts in law, tech and corporate strategy unpack regulatory gaps, internal friction and the rising threat of calculated wrongdoing in an IAM-hosted roundtable discussion

22 October 2025

Launching a unicorn company with IP as the cornerstone

MDB Capital CEO Christopher Marlett shares his strategy and method to mine patent data to pinpoint a company with a compelling IP leadership position in a new technology category, take it public and earn billions

07 October 2025

Seven innovative IP insurance solutions that chief IP counsel need to know

The emergence of sophisticated IP risk insurance solutions is transforming the landscape for intellectual property practitioners, offering tailored tools for scenarios ranging from IP filing to M&A transactions

02 October 2025

Who's who in industrial robotics innovation?

Chinese companies and universities are ramping up patent filing in industrial robotics, challenging Japan's long-standing leadership in the sector

03 September 2025

Inside 3GPP standards development with RAN2's chairwoman

Featured in Industry Insights

Women in IP: InterDigital engineer Diana Pani talks about being chair of an influential standards development working group, improving the quality of contributions and her aim to keep geopolitics out of the discussion

22 August 2025

Docket Navigator and IAM Litigation Report: The UPC's second year

Featured in Docket Navigator and IAM Litigation Report

Qualcomm and Nokia were the most prolific plaintiffs among SEP licensors; meanwhile, NPEs embraced the pan-European court

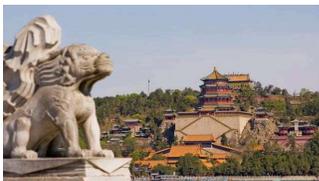

20 August 2025

EXCLUSIVE: China's groundbreaking first ruling on extraterritorial trade secret enforcement

Speaking to IAM, the team behind a landmark ruling in favour of AROTEC Diagnostics reveal the strategy behind their victory and share takeaways for other IP owners

19 August 2025

New trade secret rules in China signal compliance shake-up needed

Companies must rethink NDAs, cybersecurity and employee protocols to meet evolving standards in licensing, cross-border R&D and joint ventures, according to local lawyers

05 August 2025

Navigating IP landmines in the age of AI: what companies need to know

Unresolved questions of authorship, ownership and infringement now sit at the core of many companies' most valuable assets and businesses need to address these risks now

31 July 2025

How Uber is using IP in its quest to become the No 1 self-driving platform

Departing IP director Chris Storm discusses collaborating with autonomous vehicle companies, licensing strategies, predicting the future to manage a patent portfolio, and more

23 July 2025

A new leaf: how IP-smart leaders can reshape Canadian competitiveness

It is time for Canadian corporations to stop treating IP as an afterthought, instead embedding intangible assets where they belong: at the heart of corporate strategy and national competitiveness

18 July 2025